

The background of the cover is a photograph of a coastal town. In the foreground, there are several buildings, including a prominent one with a red roof and a satellite dish. A river flows through the middle ground, and a bridge is under construction, with a large blue crane visible on the right side. The sky is overcast and grey.

Inya Economic Journal

FOUNDED 2017

Call for Papers Vol.2 No.2

2021

Call for Paper Vol.2 No.2

Inya Economic Journal (IEJ) welcomes original, and unpublished research articles on Myanmar Economy including economic relations with external economies and the impacts of policy shifts of external economy(ies). IEJ Editorial Team selects and accepts the research articles both from the experienced researchers, practitioners, policy analysts and from young researchers.

IEJ arranges, “Young Researchers Promotion Program” for this upcoming issue. For the selected young researchers, IEJ will provide the research methodology training, supervision and mentoring sections from the editorial team to encourage the innovative research ideas of young researchers and to promote the academic atmosphere in the society.

All the enthusiastic persons or the group of persons must submit the title, the abstract of the research articles, research methodology and the researcher(s)'s CV including education and research achievements to IEJ inyaeconomicjournal@gmail.com cc: iej.pr.mm@gmail.com. The editorial procedures of IEJ can be studied on the following link: <https://www.inyaeconomics.com/journal-policy/>

Submission topics of interest include the following areas or research themes but are not limited to:

Myanmar Economic Development

Macroeconomics

Poverty Economics

Fiscal Policy, Fiscal Federalism, Natural Resource

Economics and Public Economics

Labor Economics

Behavioral Economics

Monetary Economics

Environmental Economics

Information Economics

Area Studies of Economics

Industrial Economics

Food Security

Political Economy

Managerial Economics

Labor Economics

Welfare Economics.

Income Inequality and Social Mobility

Economics and Gender

IEJ extend the new section for Inya Security Studies

The successful applicants of the journal will have an opportunity to present the research article in the research conference. The applicants who would like to present the research article in the conference must be accomplished a month ahead of the deadline.

Important Dates

Deadline to submit the abstract, methodology and the information of the applicant(s): 20 July 2021

Date to announce the successful applicant(s): 31 July 2021

Deadline to submit the first drafts of the research articles: 31 August 2021

Deadline to submit the final output of the research articles: 30 September 2021